REPRESENTATIVES IN HOUSE EXCHANGE BLOWS OVER DRAFT

Sweeney, Ohio, and Vincent, of Kentucky, Have Bitter
Argument

ONE CALLED "TRAITOR"

Sweeney Says Administration
Is Heading Country
Toward War

By William S. Neal

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Embittered by a first fight between two members and charges that the nation is heading for war, the House today neared a series of test votes on the controversial conscription bill which will foretell its ultimate fate.

As the battle moved into the amendment stage, administration leaders were confident of victory, while foes of the bill declared that they are gaining ground.

A fight on the house floor between Reps. Martin L. Sweeney, sharp-tongued Ohio member, and Beverly Vincent, fiery-tempered Kentuckian, both Democrats, climaxed closing of two days general debate last night.

Vincent, angered by Sweeney's charge that the administration is leading the nation into war by using the same tactics used by President Wilson in 1916 and 1917, called Sweeney a "traitor" as Sweeney sat down beside him.

Sweeney swung lustily for Vincent's nose and connected. The Kentuckian leaped to the fray and was pummeling the gray-haired Ohioan when other Congressmen intervened. Neither fist-cuffer was badly hurt.

Sweeney apologized to the House for the confusion he caused, but Vincent declared that Sweeney told an untruth in saying that President Wilson brought on the World War. He added that "the speech the gentleman made is proof that he is a traitor."

As cries of "shame on you" arose, Democratic leaders persuaded Vincent to withdraw his accusation. Leaders indicated that no action will be taken to punish the belligerent members.

Felice Giagnacova Dies; Funeral To Be Saturday

A Bristol resident who came to this country from Italy nearly 40 years ago, died last evening. The deceased is Felice Giagnacova, husband of the late Mary Louise Giagnacova, who passed away at his home 300 Lafayette street. He had been ill for six months.

Surviving Mr. Giagnacova are his mother, Mrs. Mary Louise Giagnacova; three daughters, Mrs. James Fantozzi, Mrs. Nicholas Pascale, Mrs. Anthony Rocco; three sons, Nicholas, Joseph and Dominick Giagnacova, all of Bristol; two sisters, Mrs. Rose Columbia and Mrs. Frank DiPalmo, and three brothers, Anthony and Angelo, of Bristol; and Patrick, of Bally.

The funeral, to which relatives and friends, also members of the Mutual Aid Society and Sons of Italy, are invited, will take place on Saturday at 7:30 a. m. from the late home of the deceased, with High Mass in St. Ann's Church at 8:30. Burial will be in St. Mark's Cemetery, with Galzerano, funeral director, in charge.

FIVE GLORIOUS DAYS PROMISED AT THE FAIR

Doylestown Fair Opens Its 18th Season on Tuesday,
September 10th

INCLUDES HORSE RACING

The 18th annual Doylestown Fair opens Tuesday, Sept. 10th, with a five Children's Day and continues through Saturday, September 14th, for five glorious days and nights.

The quality of attractions is said to surpass anything the association has previously attempted. George Hamid's new stage show, "Revue Moderne," will be featured before the grandstand every night. The other attractions include: The Three Ricardos, Mollie Tate's Dogs, Stuart Sisters, the Four Sailors and Joe Basile's Madison Square Garden Band.

Tuesday, opening day, will be featured by a bicycle parade and bicycle races open to school children of Bucks County only. At three p. m. two bicycles will be given away free, one to a lucky boy and one to a lucky girl.

Excellent horse racing is on the card for Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday. Friday (the 13th) will be Thrill Day when "Lucky Teter and his Hell Drivers" will manhandle speeding stock sedans for two hours (afternoon only) defying death at every turn of the wheel. The world's champion daredevil will make his sensational "rocket-car" leap of over 100 feet.

In the farm products division, granges are again competing, assuring county-wide interest in the greatest display ever seen in this section. The Jersey Cattle Show is again sponsored by the Bucks County Jersey Breeders Association and there will be a fine display of Holsteins, as well as thirty animals in the 4-H Club Baby Beef and Dairy Division. The 4-H and Vocational Agriculture Pig Clubs will have

Joseph A. Smith Weds Miss Elva M. Baines

Miss Elva M. Baines, of 523 Locust street, was wed yesterday afternoon to Mr. Joseph A. Smith, Maple avenue, Maple Shade. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Baines, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Smith.

The Rev. Father Joseph Diamond was the officiating priest at the ceremony solemnized at three o'clock in St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Croydon. Attending the former Miss Baines as bridesmaid was Miss Helen Green, Bath street; and serving Mr. Smith as best man was Mr. William Berry, Croydon.

The organist, Miss Elizabeth Tryon, Croydon, played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered the edifice, using the Mendelssohn march as a recessional. She also played "Mother at Your Feet is Kneeling," and accompanied Mr. Arthur McCarthy, Croydon, tenor soloist, who favored with "Because" and "Ave Maria."

Forty guests from Philadelphia and Bristol were entertained at the Baines home at a reception immediately following the ceremony. Mr. Smith and his bride then leaving for a five-day trip to Atlantic City, N. J. They will make their home at 523 Locust street for a time.

For the bridal ceremony, the former Miss Baines was attired in azure blue silk crepe, the dress having a cowl neck-line, and blue lace shirring enhancing the shoulders and top of the bodice. The short, puffed sleeves had button trim, and the circular skirt had gores at the front. Her doll hat was of azure blue silk crepe, flower trimmed, with face veil. She chose satin slippers in a matching tone, long white kid gloves, and a corsage of white roses. The bride travelled in a dress of forest green filet crepe, with light gray trim. Her hat was an attractive black felt model, accessories black, and she wore a corsage of white flowers.

Miss Green wore for the ceremony a street length dress of soldier blue silk crepe, jacket effect, with three-quarter sleeves. Her felt hat, an off the face model with face veil, and her slippers, were of soldier blue, and she wore gloves of white kid. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Ten Men Carried To Safety

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—Ten men were carried to safety down ladders and 40 others fled when fire broke out in the Delaware Hotel, near the waterfront, today. Firemen confined the flames to the first floor of the structure, which is used principally by longshoremen, seamen and produce workers.

Ammunition for Destroyers

Washington, Sept. 5.—President Roosevelt has given England assurance that it will be able to buy large quantities of ammunition in the United States for the 50 destroyers received, and the British already have started purchases, it was learned today.

The assurances were exacted by the British as part of the President's "Yankee trade" which sent the overage destroyers to Great Britain. Reason for the move was obvious, since the American destroyers require a different type ammunition than the British.

King Carol Steps Down

Bucharest, Sept. 5.—After less than a year as absolute monarch of this Balkan realm, King Carol stepped back into a figurehead role today to make way for the self-proclaimed "nationalist" regime of Premier General Ion Antonescu.

As Hungarian troops began military occupation of the vast areas of Transylvania ceded to Hungary on orders of the Rome-Berlin Axis, Antonescu inaugurated his dictatorial government after a night spent in re-proaching King Carol for his "mistakes" as autocratic monarch.

Antonescu issued a proclamation to the people of Romania, demanding their utmost co-operation and promising a "new deal" for the country. Exhausted and reported despondent, King Carol at dawn signed a decree abolishing the Romanian constitution and parliament and conferring all essential royal prerogatives upon Antonescu.

For himself, Carol retained only the nominal powers of granting decorations and amnesty.

Establishment of the virtual dictatorship under a new strong man followed resignation of former Premier Ion Gistru, pro-Nazi statesman who assumed that office several months ago in an effort to improve Romanian relations with the Reich.

CANADA RALLYING BEHIND ENGLAND

Large Numbers of Pilots Are Now In Training For Mother Country

HAS RALLYING SLOGAN

By Allan J. Funch

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
DUNVILLE, Ontario, Canada, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Typical of the quiet, but grim and determined spirit which pervades the Canadian countryside in these days of the Second World War is a large sign on a highway near here which announces:

"There will always be an England!" Outwardly the population appears much the same as it did in the days before Canada declared war on Germany. There is no excitement. There are no bands playing or flags waving to the enthusiastic shouts and cheers of overwrought civilians.

There is nothing visible, yet a visitor to the country feels the extra "push" which all Canadians are exerting to aid in the defense of their brethren across the seas.

Quietly and doggedly the Canadians are training thousands of their finest youth for the air corps. In every town or little village one hears of proud parents that their sons were mentally and physically fit for service in the army.

Canadian army officials are not accepting each and every volunteer who offers himself for service. Only the best are chosen. Recruits are forced to undergo an examination which weeds out the mentally inert or physically unfit in record time.

One officer reported: "England needs aviators, and Canada is sending her best."

Near Canada's borders there are sentinels posted at vital highway and railroad bridges, but inland and away from possible ports of entry the continuations of these same highways and railroads are not guarded.

The only visible signs of war activity inland are the lads in grey uniforms with wings on their sleeves to signify that they are training to become pilots.

Canada has already sent thousands of men to England, but only the very

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Fire, which is believed to have been started by vagrants who use the structure to sleep in, gutted the interior of a building on the property of Robert B. McKenney, 50 South Main street, Doylestown, about four o'clock on Monday afternoon.

The barn which is located on the rear of the property is really on Arabela street and its close proximity, less than two inches to the Department of Public Assistance Building on West Oakland avenue, is proof of the excellent work the Doylestown Fire Company did in fighting the fire.

It is also only an alley's width to the Nyce Supply Yards building and several other barns and garages in the neighborhood.

For the first time since they have been organized, the Doylestown Fire Police saw action when they re-routed the heavy Labor Day traffic on Route 202 which used West Oakland avenue as the east-bound thoroughfare to New Jersey.

The traffic, which was particularly heavy in the late afternoon, was re-routed down South Clinton street and sent east on Ashland street.

Residents and businessmen in that section have noticed that vagrants have been entering the barn and using it as resting and sleeping quarters. A beach chair, which was on the second floor, had a large hole burned in it some time ago.

Robert L. Rosenberry, 32, Bursenville, Bucks county, nurseryman and son of Wellington H. Rosenberry, Sr., vice-president of the Lansdale National Bank, who was missing from his home for several days, was found wandering the streets of Wilkes-Barre in a dazed condition Sunday morning.

The Doylestown sub-station of Pennsylvania Motor Police, who conducted a search for the missing man, were notified by his wife yesterday, that Wilkes-Barre police found the nurseryman in that city.

A State-wide search for Rosenberry has been conducted since he was reported missing and since his truck in which he left home was found parked at an Easton railroad station.

With an enrollment of 601 in the Doylestown high school, including grades nine to twelve, and the largest freshman class in the history of the high school, the Doylestown schools opened yesterday morning, it was announced by Supervising Principal J. Leonard Halderman.

The freshman class will number 204 freshmen which is believed to be the largest number in the history of the high school.

Mr. Halderman announced the three new teachers are Miss Virginia Billmyer, who will take Miss Johnson's place and teach sixth grade; Miss Margaret Stenler, who will take Miss Snyder's place and teach English in the seventh and eighth grades, Junior high school, and Clyde Kling, who will take Miss Freedy's place and teach commercial geography and social studies.

Miss Ruth N. Snyder will take the place of Mrs. Richard R. Beck in the senior and junior English departments in the high school.

Attendants-To-Be Arrange Shower For Miss Pico

A surprise miscellaneous shower was given to Miss Jennie Pico, Penn street, Saturday evening in Trades Hall.

The affair was given by her sister, Mrs. Anna Tullio, and her attendants-to-be, Miss Lucy Pico, Bristol, and Mrs. Clementina Catalina, Tacony. Refreshments preceded dancing.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

"Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc."

The Tide Seems Unchecked

Washington, Sept. 4.

IN several ways this Presidential campaign differs from any other in the whole history of the United States. It is, of course, the first time any twice-elected President has forced a third nomination and sought a third term. That in itself makes it without parallel. But there are other distinctive features.

FOR example, there is the singular fact that one party—the New Dealers—deliberately abandoning all domestic issues, depends wholly upon the situation in Europe to swing it to success. No other campaign has been so based. On the other hand, reliance of the opposition is almost entirely on the fact that public sentiment, after running in one way for eight years, turned in 1938 and is now running strongly in the other direction. The big question is whether the problems created for this country by the war in Europe can be used to nullify and halt the undoubted shift of public opinion from radical to conservative. In other words, are the people sufficiently alarmed by the Nazi threat to forget their distaste for the New Deal, manifested in the election two years ago, and accept the doctrine of "The Indispensable Man" upon which Mr. Roosevelt rests his third-term candidacy?

BEFORE the collapse of France there was considerable evidence that the people as a whole had begun to weary of the glittering New Deal philosophy and were slightly fed up with the whole Roosevelt family. But the prospect that England might go the

Sara C. Granzow Opens New Studio in Bristol

Miss Sara C. Granzow, who recently returned from a trip to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Cal., Chicago, Ill., and Pittsburgh, where she has been gathering new ideas and material to be presented in her dance classes this season, announces the opening of a new studio in Bristol—over the Grand Theatre, with entrance on Mill street.

Miss Granzow will conduct all classes in the school personally and instruction will include tap, ballet, acrobatic, and ballroom. There will be daily classes for children and adults, and private lessons may be had by appointment. Registration day for the new season will be held at both the new studio and the Croydon studio on Saturday, September 7th, 10 a. m. to six p. m.

Plans are now being made for a benefit recital for the Blood Donors Association of Bristol—sometime in late October.

RED CROSS WORKERS FINISH 8314 DRESSINGS

Volunteers Also Sew 701
Garments and Knit 158
Pieces

WAR RELIEF WORK

With a check-up this week of surgical dressings, knitted garments, and other articles of clothing made by Red Cross volunteers in this area during the Summer, 8,314 dressings are listed; 701 articles of sewn clothing; and 158 knitted garments completed, in addition to 42 of the latter in the course of completion.

Volunteers in this area have been busy making items to relieve the distress of men, women and children in war-torn Europe. The time set for return of these garments to Red Cross headquarters on Mill street was September 1st. All but the few knitted pieces were ready by that time, and the volunteers are hurriedly completing those for shipment abroad.

The 701 garments made by the sewing department, included woolen and cotton dresses, men's hospital robes, boys' overalls, boys' flannel and cotton shirts, and all kinds of infant garments. Mrs. Archibald D. Morris and Mrs. E. Linton Martin were in charge of this group of workers.

The work of knitting sweaters and socks was supervised by Mrs. Clarence Moyer and Miss Elizabeth Scott.

Mrs. Theodore B. Megargee and Mrs. Franklin Wallin had charge of the surgical dressing activities.

During the month of September, Miss Lyman, of Philadelphia, will be in charge of the Bristol headquarters of the Red Cross, while Mrs. Marie Holland is vacationing in New York.

Quakertown Man, 79, Weds His Secretary

SELLERSVILLE, Sept. 5.—A couple well known through the upper North Penn Valley, Charles N. Cressman and Miss Rose Beer, was quietly married Tuesday afternoon, in St. Michael's Lutheran Church.

The bridegroom is a seventy-nine-year-old cigar manufacturer, who has a country home and large orchards, near Quakertown. His bride is his fifty-four-year-old secretary.

The couple was married in the presence of only a few persons by Rev. Dr. J. H. Waldeich, pastor of the church. Attendants were Margaret Morgan, of Philadelphia, and Howard Kratz, of Quakertown.

The bride wore brown crepe with matching turban and streamer veil, and a corsage of orchids. Her attendant wore turquoise crepe with a white turban and corsage of orchids.

Following the wedding, the couple returned to Philadelphia, and will live for the present at the Bellevue-Stratford.

For many years Mr. Cressman lived at Sellersville and was associated with A. R. Cressman's Sons Company, one of the largest cigar manufacturing concerns in the state. Mr. Cressman was associated with the company in Sellersville for forty years until operations were abandoned. He is now connected with the Mazer-Cressman Cigar Company, Philadelphia.

Mr. Cressman's first wife, the former Mina Leutherman, died in August of last year. He is the father of three children, and an uncle of Mrs. Luther Hart, wife of Philadelphia city treasurer.

The new Mrs. Cressman has been secretary to Mr. Cressman for the past thirty years. She was a former Perkasee resident, the daughter of Nathan K. Beer.

ENGAGED

The engagement of Miss Yolanda Di Nofrio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Di Nofrio, Wood street, to Nicholas Di Nofrio, Jefferson avenue, was announced by Anthony Di Nofrio, Jefferson avenue, Saturday evening, at a gathering at the Di Nofrio home.

WHAT CAN THEY KILL?

Nobody on this side of the Atlantic and few in England—except those, of course, who have seen with their own eyes and heard with their own ears—can guess the amount of havoc wrought in repeated Nazi air raids on London. There seems little doubt that both loss of life and destruction of property have been of grave proportions. But this much is known: The British are fighting back with a ferocity which is intensified by every terrorist Nazi raid, a ferocity which augurs ill to invaders.

A few months ago there was a bombing raid on Paris—a city as rich in beauty and art, if no richer in history and tradition, than London. It was a fairly heavy raid. Factories in the outskirts were damaged; apartment houses and schools were struck. The world-famous landmarks of Paris escaped damage; but everyone—or almost everyone—said how terrible it would be if the architectural beauties of Paris were ruined by war.

A little later, when German armies were approaching Paris, the French government proclaimed the capital an "open city" in order to avoid bombardment by heavy artillery as well as from the air. So French soldiers were ordered to retreat, without firing a shot, from the city where their forefathers had fought from barricade to barricade.

Today Paris, its architectural beauties intact, is in German hands. If it remains in German hands long enough, Paris will become another Vienna—reduced to the position of a provincial outpost of Berlin.

These are not happy thoughts. The Arc de Triomphe still stands; but what will it mean if the Nazis, or their French hirelings, stay? The world would be sorry to see St. Paul's or Westminster, St. James' or Buckingham in ruins—but new cathedrals, new abbeys, new palaces would rise on their sites if the soul of the British people lived on.

The civilized world hopes that Nelson still will stand erect in Trafalgar Square when this war ends.

But Nelson, himself, would grimly order that every stone of his great monument be blown to dust rather than that England surrender ships or guns or men.

CASEY AT THE BAT

It may mean little to the average reader to say that Ernest Lawrence Thayer, at the age of 77, has "struck out." But it will mean much to say that the end has come for the man who wrote "Casey at the Bat."

In 1888, when Thayer launched a brief career as a writer on The San Francisco Examiner, he dashed off, in a couple of hours, the most famous poem associated with the great national pastime. He was among the single song writers. He never wrote anything else that was even remembered, much less as good as "Casey."

The late De Wolf Hopper, of comic opera fame, began reciting it as an extra number until it became a part of practically every performance he gave. The lines crept into the anthologies and were memorized by urchins in the bleachers.

The classic of baseball will probably endure long after the name of Ernest Thayer is forgotten.

The New York World's Fair management has announced the closing date, but the big show may fold up sooner than expected, as the souvenir hunters have started taking it home a pocketful at a time.

FALLSINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hann are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, in the Wagner hospital, Bristol. Mrs. Hann, before her marriage, was Miss Mary Jane Chamberlain, Fallsington.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Hann and daughter Jean have returned from a vacation through Virginia, Gettysburg, and Stone Harbor. J. Charles Stewart, of Illinois, was their week-end guest.

PACK LUNCHES WITH HOT FOOD FOR THE COLD WINTER MONTHS

By Miss Edna Stephany

(Home Economics Representative)
All reports show that children having a hot food at noon gain weight more rapidly, are better physically, are absent less from school, do better school work, and are better behaved. A good lunch with something hot makes this difference.

There are four ways to meet the problem of something hot for the away-from-home lunch: a lunch box with a thermos bottle, a small amount of money for each one to buy a hot food, provisions in the school for a hot dish at noon, or equipment for a pint jar lunch.

The simplest way to include a hot food is the thermos bottle. Children may use the school cafeteria or in some cases nearby restaurants to buy a hot food. The rest of the lunch carried from home should be planned so that with the hot food there is a well-balanced lunch.

Many rural schools now provide a hot dish especially during the winter. Even the one-room school which has a flat top stove can provide a pint-jar lunch for the children. A wash boiler or large kettle in which to heat the jars of food is all that is needed. The jars are filled at home with a food that heats satisfactorily.

The following foods can be carried either in a thermos bottle or pint jars: soups of all kinds, cocoa, hot spiced milk, and heated tomato juice.

Seeing that everyone has something, hot isn't too difficult. Its value to the family cannot be measured in dollars and cents, but it has an even greater value which is better health for the families.

PREPARED MEAT COMES IN HANDY

Grandmother never was flurried when unexpected guests drove up to her door. Even without modern conveniences, she had her own favorite short-cuts in producing a tasty meal from her well-stocked larder.

Inez S. Willson, home economist, reminds us that the modern homemaker has her well-stocked larder, too, but in somewhat different form. Her emergency shelf with its cans of vegetables and fruits and its rows of meat dishes in tins or glass jars ready to serve as the main dish of a really hearty meal, would have amazed and charmed the homemaker of an earlier period.

Wide Variety of Meats

Among the best known packaged and canned meats are dried beef, frankfurts, little links of sausage, summer sausage, bacon, minced and deviled ham, pickled pigs' feet, and pickled tongue. Canned corn beef hash is growing in popularity. Now you can even get canned stew! By taking a look around the shelves of your grocery store or retail meat shop, you'll find many other prepared meat products whose acquaintance will be a definite advantage to you.

You can serve the meats in many ways. Take corned beef, for instance. You may use it in sandwiches sliced thin on a cold meat platter, or as a hot dish served with vegetables as the center of a quickly prepared New England dinner. Each dish offers many similar opportunities. With the wide variety available there is no need for the modern hostess to be socially embarrassed for not having anything on hand when unexpected guests drop in.

way of France, and thus the conquering Hitler became a real menace to us, has forced this nation into appropriating ten billions of dollars for a gigantic defense program and given Mr. Roosevelt his opportunity to play a new role. The New Dealers think that once more he will be able to kindle and capture the imagination of the people. The belief of the anti-New Dealers is that notwithstanding the war and the obscuring of all domestic issues, which permits the President to pose as uninterested in his own campaign and concerned solely with grave international affairs—notwithstanding all that, they believe the tide is still running in their direction.

SINCE 1938 every primary and every by-election had sustained that theory about the tide. Without exception, these had shown an increase in Republican strength and a shrinkage in New Deal votes. Among the twelve tests recorded by the two party committees, there was not a single one out of line. But all these tests had occurred before the collapse of France. The only one that has taken place since that catastrophe—and since the "draft" in Chicago—was the California primaries of last week. For that reason the results in that State seem to warrant a good deal more attention than they got at the time.

UNQUESTIONABLY they are encouraging to the anti-New Deal side and discouraging to the third-termers. To appreciate their importance, it should be recalled, first, that Senator Hiram Johnson, though a Republican, strongly supported Mr. Roosevelt eight years ago and four years ago. And six years ago, when Senator Johnson was a candidate for re-election, Mr. Roosevelt enthusiastically supported him, referring to him publicly as "that great liberal statesman." But since 1937 Senator Johnson has become disoriented as to the soundness of the New Deal and distrustful of Mr. Roosevelt personally. And a month ago he came out in favor of the election of Mr. Willkie.

PROMPTLY Mr. Roosevelt denounced him as no longer a liberal. At one of his press conferences he spoke in disparaging terms of Mr. Johnson, and very soon afterward the full weight of the Administration was thrown behind the candidacy of a Mr. Ford for the Democratic Senatorial nomination. The result is interesting. In the republican primaries, where he had no real opposition, Senator Johnson polled 578,000 votes, as against 50,000, 45,000 and 32,000, respectively, for three other Republican candidates. But Senator Johnson also went into the Democratic primaries. And there he polled 480,000 votes as against 194,000 for Mr. Patterson, who had tried to go to the Chicago Convention as an anti-third term delegate, and 168,000 for Mr. Ford, the Roosevelt third-term and Administration favorite. Other minor candidates got a total of approximately 110,000.

IN brief, Senator Johnson, a Republican, denounced by the President, after sweeping his own pri-mariee by a six-to-one vote, got more votes in the Democratic primaries than all the Democrats combined and three times as many as the candidate favored by Mr. Roosevelt. Calmly considered, these figures are impressive. If they mean anything, they mean that in California the anti-New Deal tide is running strongly. It seems not to have been checked by either the war in Europe or the third-term nomination of Mr. Roosevelt. They mean, too, that the effort to "purge" Senator Johnson was an ignominious failure. In this connection, it is being recalled that in 1916 it was the influence of Hiram Johnson that turned California away from Charles Evans Hughes and elected Woodrow Wilson President.

Canada Rallying Behind England

first arrivals have seen action, it was reported. Letters sent home by the overseas troops show that the first Canadian contingents took part in the very last part of the fighting in France and succeeded in making their escape with other English troops at the Battle of Dunkerque.

Other than this, with the exception of the fliters, the Canadian troops have seen little or no action. The great majority of the troops, according to information here, apparently arrived after the withdrawal from France. The Canadians themselves say they have not yet felt the privation and misery which usually accompanies a step into a world conflagration. The few extra bases which have been levied on minor products have not worked a hardship on the civilians, who cheerfully pay and wonder that their taxes have not been suddenly pushed skywards.

For instance, there is not yet a war tax on gasoline, whereas in England or any place on the European continent gasoline has practically vanished in so far as civilian use is concerned.

Despite war regulations, it is still a simple matter for Americans to enter Canada. Customs officials merely record the license number and owner's name of an automobile and the number of passengers upon entry and a permit is issued to the car owner to carry with him about the country.

Upon leaving Canada, the car owner surrenders his permit and is asked to state what purchases he has made. Americans should remember, however, to take with them some proof of American citizenship for identification purposes for re-entry into the United States.

Hulmeville Methodists Plan 100th Anniversary

The anniversary committee which has been organizing the meetings, has announced they will start on Sunday, September 29th, with prominent ministers delivering sermons on that and the two succeeding Sundays, October 6th and 13th. Week-night programs are arranged for October 1, 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10, with definite nights assigned to the Ladies Aid Society, the official board, Wesley Club, and other groups. One night is designated as party night, when all members of the church and Sunday School will be urged to participate in a few hours of recreation with a program of entertainment.

An anniversary booklet, which is to be provided each one attending the services, will contain a complete history of the church for the past 100 years, list of members, sponsorship list, outline of the anniversary services, with complete list of speakers, musicians, etc.

The committee in charge of plans includes: the pastor, the Rev. Wilmer E. Harkness, the Misses Clara L. Hillek and Elma E. Harkness; and Messrs. Samuel J. Hillek, Jesse G. Webster, Kenneth Comly, Samuel K. Faust, and Harold Dassenberg.

SCIENCE JUSTIFIES MEAT IN OUR DIET

Through ages long past, meat has been an important part of man's diet. Centuries before man knew that meat was a rich source of protein, vitamins, phosphorus and iron, he ate meat to satisfy his natural craving for it.

Now, nutrition has become a science which shows us what we should eat and why. Inez S. Willson, home economist, tells us that recent advances in this science make it clear that from a nutritional point of view, even though a charge account at a grocery store has replaced a bow and arrow, the important place meat has always held in the diet of man is both desirable and justified.

Meat Important for Vitamins

And why should meat be a part of the daily diet? First of all, it is an is one of the essential elements we unexcelled source of protein. Protein need in our body for growth and to build or repair body tissues. The protein of meat is unequalled not only because it is present in large quantities but because the protein of meat contains so many of the amino acids necessary for health.

New research throws a spotlight on meat for its role in the vitamin story. As a part of the daily diet, meat gives us impressionable amounts of the most essential vitamins of the B complex—thiamine (B1), riboflavin (B2) and nicotinic acid (pellagra-preventive factor).

Also Valuable for Minerals

Meat is a good source of minerals, notably phosphorus and iron. Phosphorus is necessary to build strong bones and iron is needed to build the hemoglobin of our blood and to prevent nutritional anemia.

Today we not only realize the importance of meat for a person who is healthy, but through the sciences of nutrition and medicine we now realize that meat plays an important role in the daily diet of those confronted with certain chronic ailments such as tuberculosis, aneurysm, arteriosclerosis, hepatic derangements, hypertension, nephritis and nephrosis.

In the light of research meat has also assumed an important role in a child's diet as evidenced by the trend toward an earlier use of meat in the diet of children.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By Howard L. Zepp, Th. M.)

"Judge me, O Lord; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord; therefore I shall not slide. Thy loving-kindness is before mine eyes; and I have walked in Thy truth." Having access to the riches of Thy grace, may we, like the Psalmist, rejoice in the luxury of integrity. Keep our hearts glad. Give us peace and contentment within. Amen.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

With their four songs for "If I Had My Way," which stars Bing Crosby and Gloria Jean and which is now at the Grand Theatre, the composers, Johnny Burke and James Monaco, have set an all-time record for creating tunes for one singer.

With Monaco composing the music and Burke writing the words, they have turned out the music for the past six Bing Crosby pictures.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Barry Mackay wears the stripes of a Navy Lieutenant in Monogram's "Torpedo Raider," big parade of the high seas, showing at the Bristol Theatre. The story of the film closely parallels the recent Graf Spee incident at Montevideo, even to the detail of the sinking in the harbor of the German battleship.

Applauded as the best of the Pepper films to date, Columbia's "Out West With the Peppers" ends its popular run at the Bristol Theatre today.

RITZ THEATRE

The teaming of the prize ring's two most popular pugilists-comedians is one of the highlights of the newest Higgins Family laugh riot, "Grandpa Goes To Town," produced by Republic, which is the current billing at the Ritz Theatre.

Virginia Vale had to be discovered twice, change her name and the color of her hair, before she got a break in Hollywood and stepped into leading roles opposite George O'Brien, popular RKO Radio western star.

Miss Vale is now breaking a 16-year record by playing her fourth lead opposite O'Brien in "Prairie Law." Hereafter, the O'Brien leading ladies never appeared in more than three consecutive films with him.

MEAT ESSENTIAL IN ALL SEASONS

The body, just as the machine to which it is so often compared, requires the same food essentials to keep its condition up to par in summer as it does in winter. That is why the summer diet should include an adequate proportion of meat supplemented by vegetables, fruits, cereals and dairy products.

Inez S. Willson, home economist, declares that meat has many values in the year-round diet. Nutritionally speaking, it gives us protein, phosphorus, iron and certain essential vitamins. In addition, the aroma and appearance of meat stimulates the appetite, the different meat cuts lend variety to the meals and meat in the meal gives one the satisfied feeling of being well-fed.

SERVE THIS PLATE FOR DULL APPETITES

To refresh appetites jaded by hot weather, Inez S. Willson, home economist, recommends serving this bacon and vegetable plate. It's light, yet satisfying and nutritious:

- 1 pound bacon
  - 6 tomato halves
  - 1 head cauliflower
  - Green beans
  - 2 tablespoons butter
  - 2 tablespoons flour
  - 1 cup milk
  - 1/4 pound mild cheese
  - Salt and pepper
- Broil bacon until evenly crisped. At the same time place tomatoes in the broiling oven, dot them with butter, and heat. Cook cauliflower and green beans separately in boiling salted water. Make a cheese sauce by combining butter and flour, gradually adding milk, cooking until thickened and then adding cheese. To serve, arrange the head of cauliflower in the center of the platter and pour cheese sauce over it. Alternate green bean bundles and tomato halves around it, and border with slices of bacon.

IT'S TRADITIONAL— RED FLANNEL HASH

From old New England comes this recipe for one of their most popular traditions, Red Flannel Hash.

You need the following ingredients for this east-coast favorite:

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 cups chopped corned beef
- 1 cup diced cooked beets

2 cups diced cooked potatoes
Salt and pepper
Melt the butter in a skillet. Mix together the remaining ingredients and place in skillet. Cover and allow to simmer for 30 minutes. These proportions will serve from 4 to 6 people.
Inez S. Willson, home economist, suggests suitable accompaniments for this tasty dish—buttered peas, celery cabbage salad, French bread, a beverage and peach dumplings for dessert.

BLAMES CITY FOR FIRE

BERKELEY, Cal.—(IN.)—The City of Berkeley is blamed by Ben Otto for the destruction of the entire selling stock of his North Pole Express Company, and he is suing for $9,000 as a result. Ottovich claimed that he was ordered to dump refuse in his moving van at a point in the city dump near where a fire was burning. The van caught fire and was destroyed.

DIAMOND CLUB WINS LEAGUE CROWN OF SUBURBAN GROUP

Held To Six Hits But Wins
Game By the Score of 5 to 2

DEFEATS CROYDON NINE

Winners Made Three Hits Off
Hal Snyder; Croydon
Collected Five

Although held to three hits, the Diamond Sporting Club captured the suburban championship of the Bristol Suburban League by downing the Croydon Y. M. A. team, 5-2, on Landreth's field. It was the second straight win in the playoff series for the boys of Joe Diamond.

Again the Andalusians were the recipients of Croydon's generosity as the Y's gave up four runs in the first inning with only one hit being made. In this inning, the ultimate losers made a quartet of miscues.

In all, the winners made three hits off Hal Snyder while the Croydonians collected five from the delivery of "Lefty" Keegan. No extra base hits were made in the game. Keegan ended the fray in grand style as he fanned the last three batters to face him.

Croydon's best chance came in the fourth when with two gone, it loaded the bags on a hit batsman, a single by Palumbo and a pass to Oppman. The Y's had a total of nine runners stranded in the five innings. Diamond had three left on base.

"Gige" Dougherty with two out of three led the batters of the evening.

BLOOMER GIRLS LOSE, BUT PUT UP A GOOD GAME

The Morrisville Bloomer Girls gave the Rohm & Haas team plenty of trouble in their softball tilt on the Maple Beach field last evening but in the end the males were victors over the female ten, 8-6.

The chemical workers slammed the offerings of Bernie Coyle quite frequently and were credited with fifteen hits. The girls had a total of eight safe blows but took advantage of every opportunity to push runs over the plate.

Parcinski, Roberts and Walterick had a pair of hits each for the girls' club while six Rohm and Haas players had the same average.

Take Americans Off Ship

New York, Sept. 5.—In a short-wave broadcast from Berlin, a CBS commentator today quoted a German newspaper as reporting the removal by a German naval boarding party of six Americans from a captured British freighter.

The commentator said the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung had announced the capture of the S. S. Atlantic, location undisclosed, en route to Africa.

The newspaper said the six were first taken to a French port and then given transportation to Iran on the Spanish border.

Nazis Claim Six British Destroyers Sunk

Berlin, Sept. 5.—Destruction of six British destroyers in the past few days by German naval units was announced by the German high command today.

A special bulletin stated that a German speedboat sank a destroyer of the Imogene class off the English east coast last night.

The high command's special bulletin also stated that a German speedboat flotilla last night torpedoed and sank five armed and fully loaded enemy merchant ships which were being conveyed by a strong force.

Nazi Planes Try To Penetrate England's Defenses

London, Sept. 5.—Repeating the same tactics they used yesterday, waves of German bombing and fighting planes tried to penetrate England's southeastern defenses today in renewed efforts to attack London.

After a night of widespread air attacks, the Nazis once succeeded in approaching the British capital, causing London's 43rd air raid alarm of the year. Immediately after the warning sounded high explosive and incendiary bombs dropped on the edge of the London area but caused no damage. Anti-aircraft guns roared into action.

Simultaneously German formations appeared over a wide region stretching from southeast and southwest England to the midlands.

This afternoon it was reported two raiders had been shot down near the southeast coast.

The German planes probing for a weak spot in the British defenses attacked from various directions, using formations ranging from small to heavy, all strongly protected by pursuit craft.

The morning also was notable for the veritable tornado of anti-aircraft fire which greeted every appearance of German planes.

There were numerous reports of air combats over several southeastern points and also reports of numerous planes shot down.

the Bucks County Fish, Game and Forestry Association and the usual excellent milk goat show will be under the direction of the Delaware Valley Milk Goat Association.

To date 11 dealers have engaged space for the greatest display of farm machinery and equipment ever gathered together in the history of the fair. With the closing of entries in the various exhibit classes the Department Heads report that there is keen competition for the $3,500 in cash premiums and that display may even surpass the usual high standard set by Doylestown Fair which has earned a great reputation as a "Farmers' Fair."

Merchants report an increased sale of the special advance four for $1 tickets by which the purchaser saves half the general admission price. The sale of these bargain tickets, which may be secured from co-operating merchants or direct by mail from the secretary, J. Allen Gardy, 28 W. State street, Doylestown, closes Saturday, Sept. 7th. The grounds have taken on the usual air of bustling preparation, and when the gates are thrown open next Tuesday everything will be in readiness for the great crowds of visitors who are accustomed to attend this real country fair.

CANAL ZONE RESTRICTIONS

BALBOA, Canal Zone.—(INS)—The irony of photo restrictions in the vital Panama Canal Zone is the subject of considerable humorous comment by tourists. Restrictions have become so rigid that practically no section of the Zone can be photographed. However, persons desiring photographs may pur-and berated her, Mrs. Lawilda Achstetter testified. Thereby she gained a divorce from Charles Achstetter.

"Sometimes I wonder if the old-fashioned virtues aren't taken much too lightly," mused Superior Judge Everett C. McKeage as he granted the decree.

THE OLD YORK ROAD STORE OF STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER

THE OLD YORK ROAD AND RYDAL ROAD

JENKINTOWN

All roads lead to Strawbridge & Clothier's, especially these school-outfitting days. We have the right clothes for small boys and their prep school brothers, though you'll see only sister's outfits here. And are they smart? The whole class will answer "yes", and teacher will make it unanimous.

Upper left, is one of the classic Reversibles that know no age limit. We have them for nursery school pupils and college seniors. This particular one, with separate hood, is of wool plaid, zipper-fastened, with reverse side of cotton gabardine. Sizes 7 to 14 . . . . . $9.95
For Teen Girls, 12 to 16 . . . . . $10.95

THIRD FLOOR

Upper right, is a model that girls who wear junior miss sizes will hail with glee. It's a Carole King with a bright wool plaid skirt on a bodice topped by a velveteen blouse. In black or brown . . . $10.95

SECOND FLOOR

Left centre, is a Corduroy Jacket worn smartly with a fine Shetland wool Sweater and a bright wool plaid Suspender Skirt. These are for girls of 7 to 14, but you'll find plenty in older versions for college in the Sportswear Shop.

Corduroy Jacket . . . . . $3.95
Plaid Wool Skirt . . . . . $2.95
Shetland Pull-over . . . . . $2.95

Right centre, is the 7 to 14 edition of the Pinafore that is now a feminine classic. This is of plain-and-striped chambray in red or blue . . . . . $2.95

THIRD FLOOR

Left, a perfect model for classroom, for trips to town and for football games later. It's a Sophie Wagner designed with all the chic one associates with the name. Of soft cashmere jersey in green, blue or natural. Misses' sizes . . . . . $19.95
